

Treasurer

Larry Hart

Larry graduated from Virginia Tech with a bachelor's degree in Accounting. Over the past 30 years, he has worked in the accounting field for both public and non-public companies with increased responsibilities managing all aspects of various Companies accounting departments along with managing their internal and external reporting. When he is not at work, he can be found volunteering his time helping people regain control of their money through coordinating Financial Peace University classes provided by Dave Ramsey. He enjoys empowering others to win at life and money. He also enjoys spending time with his wife, two grown sons, two daughter in-laws and a grandson.
